Frank Hough Armstrong

Extract from minutes of Board of Managers meeting of the Presbyterian Hospital of the City of Chicago, held March 16, 1920, at which time the following Resolution was passed with a rising vote:

"In the death of Mr. Frank H. Armstrong, the Presbyterian Hospital, as well as our city, has suffered a great loss. He was a member of the Board of Managers for eleven years. He took an active interest in its affairs, and was ever ready to do his full part in its administration. He was an agreeable companion, a wise counsellor and a devoted friend; a man of the highest integrity, with firm convictions on all important questions, with the courage to stand for what he believed to be the right, yet with full consideration and respect for the opinions of others. In his daily walk and conversation he was a fine example of a Christian gentleman. This Board desires to put on its records its deep appreciation of his character, gratitude for his services and sorrow that we shall see his face no more; and it wishes to convey to his sorrowing family its deep and tender sympathy in their great affliction."

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT

To the Members of the Society, the Churches, and all Our Other Friends:

The year just closed has been a very active one in the administration of our hospital. The demand for its services has been unprecedentedly large, and during much of the time we could not receive all who applied for admission.

In passing, it is proper to state that not one poor patient who was a proper hospital case has been denied admission so far as we know. Our total number of admissions has been 10,365.

The continued high cost of all supplies and increased wages have made our financial condition difficult. It is unnecessary to enlarge on this. The situation is familiar to all. It is perhaps not an over-statement to say that this situation bears more heavily on hospitals than anywhere else. It is impossible to increase our revenue to correspond with our increased expense. (The entire cost of the administration of the hospital for 1904 was $149,000.00. The past year it exceeded $600,000.00. A portion of this increase was due to our enlarged capacity, but the greater part was occasioned by the increased cost of supplies, higher wages and much improved standards of service).

Our ward rates have not been raised in three years, and are only twenty-five cents per day higher than ten years ago. The rate per patient is at least $1.25 per day less than the actual cost to us. This disposes of the argument sometimes used, that pay patients in the wards are a source of revenue to a hospital.

Every patient in our wards paying regular rates is a charity patient to the extent that the rate paid falls below the cost of his treatment.

Our rates for private rooms have not been raised in two years.

Our revenue from private rooms and pay patients in wards is not commensurate with the service.

Modern treatment of medical cases requires laboratory examinations, X-ray diagnosis, and many other tests and examinations, all of which add materially to the cost and equipment. This is followed in most cases by special diets with frequent feedings carefully prepared, all of which is in addition to the regular routine care of all our patients, and adds essentially to the cost.

The cost of our charity work for the year exceeds $125,000.00. Yet despite our difficulties, it is a gratification to announce to you that there has not been a deficit and the year closes with a small credit.

Our efficiency has not been allowed to decline. In particular we have endeavored to give the best possible care to our charity patients. In point of medical attention from the staff, and nursing, such patients have the same treatment as those in private rooms.

Every effort has been made for the conservation of all supplies, and particularly for the reduction of waste. An experienced diet nurse has been added to our administrative staff. She carefully inspects the diet kitchens and serving rooms, watches meals as they are served, and endeavors to eliminate the tendency on the part of nurses and attendants to over-supply the trays. Care is given to the selection of such foods as are of most advantage to the patients. This diet-supervisor has an assistant and pupil diet nurses who are completing their courses in other institutions by practical work with us.

During the year we have taught 230 nurses, and helped instruct 160 young doctors and medical students. The beneficial effect of our teaching work has been marked on our patients.

An interesting feature of all hospitals since prohibition came, has been the material decrease of applicants from the very abject poor, alcoholic cases and accidents resulting from the use of alcohol. Also, ordinary cases, which heretofore have been unable to pay anything because the wages of the bread winner had been wasted in drink, are now much better able to pay a portion of their hospital charge. And there is everywhere a demand for better accommodation from people of moderate means, showing the possession of more money with which to take care of themselves than before. We cannot give private rooms to many desiring them, who would heretofore have gone into wards. How long this condition will exist no one can state. It is undoubtedly true at present, as is proved by reports from hospitals in different parts of the country.

The following gifts and bequests have been received during the year, and added to the Endowment Fund:

Bequest of William F. Keep.....	$ 2,500.00
Bequest of Mrs. Etta Soper Smith to establish the Albert & Esther Soper Memorial Room....	10,000.00
Maude S. Leach Memorial Fund. Given to the Woman's Auxiliary Board Room .....	2,000.00
Gift of Miss Frances R. Keep for the William F. Keep Memorial Room .....	10,000.00
Bequest of William P. Healy .....	5,000.00
Bequest of Mary Alice McKnight .....	300.00
Bequest of George B. Harris .....	1,218,905.94
Bequest of Henry Botsford .....	5,000.00

The Woman's Auxiliary Board has continued the same successful service that has distinguished it for many years. Working entirely on its own volition, under the guidance and inspiration of its capable officers, it has been an important factor in our work.

Our Training School has had a successful year. The number of pupils has closely averaged two hundred. There is much anxiety with the heads of all such schools, because since the war there has been a decided reduction in the number of pupils applying for enrollment. This is undoubtedly partly due to the reaction following the enthusiasm occasioned by the war, when the hope of being able to nurse our soldiers led to a great increase in pupils. Up to the present, we have not suffered, but doubtless will feel it in our next class.

Aside from the cause just mentioned, there is another reason why there should be a temporary decline in the number of young women entering the profession of nursing in this state. The unfortunate and ill-judged attempt, early this year, on the part of certain hospitals that have been unable to obtain a sufficient number of pupils to do their work (part of which work the pupils should never have been asked to do), aided by some well-meaning, but misinformed people, to reduce the standing of nurses in this state, and the standards of training schools, has brought this result. The movement had its origin with one or two commercial institutions, who for ulterior motives of their own, and without any care whatever for any educational idea connected with their nurses, cunningly initiated a scheme designed to make it easier for them to obtain maids for doing the work of their hospitals, who, however, could be called nurses. Very hard and continuous work by a few devoted women who have had years of experience in training schools, and ideals for high standards of education and efficiency of nurses, aided by some clear headed men in the legislature who could see through the fallacy of its pretence, defeated the bill. But the immediate effect of the agitation was to render the profession of nursing less attractive to the class of young women from whom our pupils come, most of whom have definite ideas of training themselves for positions of responsibility in hospitals, public health service, etc. Some who intended to enter schools in this city went at once to New York and enrolled there. Others gave up their intentions of entering the profession and changed to other fields. The effect of this blow on the high grade training schools will long be felt.

There is undoubtedly a great need for so-called "practical nurses"—women who, with less training and efficiency, but possessing the rudiments of proper nursing, can be of great assistance in ordinary cases. It is hoped that there may be women in sufficient numbers to take this less extended training, and to fill this need. But such training will be entirely different from the present requirements, and will be a much shorter course. And it is expected by the advocates of the plan that the remuneration for such practical nurses when on duty shall be less than that given to fully trained and equipped graduate nurses. If there are enough women who will be satisfied with such limited training and moderate pay for services, it will be a blessing to the community. The difficulty of the proposed bill was that its effect would have been to put such nurses on an equality with real trained nurses, both as to their standing in the profession and their remuneration. At the same time, the bill proposed to lower the standards of the high grade schools, both in required education before entering, and in the extent and thoroughness of teaching. The substitute bill as passed, affords opportunity for the limited training of all who may desire to be "practical nurses," but maintains the standard for those who desire to fit themselves for positions of responsibility in private duty and for head nurses in hospitals, public health positions, visiting nurses, child's welfare and the increasing need for nurses of the highest efficiency. Our school will continue the same standard as heretofore, which is fully warranted by the success which has come to our graduates.

The Social Service Department has devoted much of its efforts to benefit the children who have been in the hospital, or whose parents have been patients. The poorly nourished ones have been directed to the recently organized Nutrition Clinics and the ailing ones to the suitable dispensary most convenient to their homes. In the families of adults it has guided the convalescence, or helped readjust difficulties. It has co-operated with other organizations in working for such families. It has materially assisted in arranging for admission of poor patients who need care, and in following them beyond the hospital. The successful co-operation of this department with other social agencies of the city has benefited the community and has been commended by the United Charities. Social Science is no longer an experiment, but a vital force in the welfare of our patients.

The Out-Maternity Service deserves extended mention. A summary of its work for the year shows 4,111 nurses' calls, 306 doctors' calls, 554 deliveries and 565 babies. No deaths. But these figures give but a faint idea of the benefit of this service, not only to the community surrounding the hospital which we serve, but also to the nurses. The contact with the distressing conditions which exist among most of the families to whom they go, with the opportunity for rendering service so sadly needed, is at the same time an education and an inspiration. These young nurses had never before seen such conditions. They did not know they existed. Their sympathies are enlarged and broadened, the appeal to their hearts is instant, and promptly met, and their outlook on life takes on a new vision. They are better women and will be better nurses for the experience. Incidentally, these nurses gathered sixty children at the Nurses' Home Christmas Eve. They had a tree, simple gifts and pleasant entertainment and, we believe, carried away some joy and happiness to their homes.

The Choral Organization of the pupils of the Training School is a feature of interest. Some eighty of them take part every week under a capable director, and they show decided interest and are making good progress. It is both an education and an amusement, furnishing as well relaxation from their daily routine. We have given them a movie machine of sufficient size to show the best pictures, and the entertainments are greatly enjoyed, and add to the pleasure of the life of the Home.

The scientific investigation and research which is done in connection with the Sprague Foundation and through our different medical and surgical services shows a steady progress. There has been a large amount of patient, persistent, careful and unselfish work by our staff, which has proved most beneficial.

The electro-cardiograph, a gift from Madame Cyrus H. McCormick, has been rendering useful service. By means of this instrument, tracings of the heart's action are made that are often of great help to the physician. In addition to the regular examination of patients who have heart disease, investigation of heart problems is being pursued; these researches being made possible by a fund contributed by R. T. Crane, Jr.

The Occupational Therapy has clearly demonstrated its value and this is beginning to be more generally recognized by our staff. We have had gratifying results with patients who have been brought back from a despondent and almost hopeless outlook on life to a normal condition of usefulness. It has been of material assistance in mental cases.

For the past year we have been handicapped by insufficient telephone facilities. We have just completed the installation of a new three-operator switch board. It connects with eighteen trunk lines and two hundred terminals. This will greatly improve our service from the outside and to the patients in the house.

Our Chaplain has held service in the Chapel every Sunday morning. He has also visited patients regularly through the week. But there has been no bar to the attendance or ministration of clergymen of other beliefs. Probably there is not a religious denomination of any kind in the city which has not had its minister in our wards during the year.

Arrangements are made for a complete rehabilitation and enlargement of the diet kitchen and serving room on the third floor. When completed there will be a complete equipment for special diets with records on each case. This will furnish facilities for a Metabolic Clinic similarly conducted to the Diabetic Clinic, which has done such good work, and we look forward to beneficial results to a large class of patients.

While it has been difficult and at times impossible to obtain a sufficient number of capable employes, we have had the faithful service of a large number who have been with us for an extended period, and have given us their best efforts. We acknowledge their loyal assistance and thank them.

The medical staff, the administrative officers, and the nursing department have worked together in hearty co-operation, making possible whatever success has been achieved. To each and all, we give our appreciation and thanks.

Our friends who have contributed generously in previous years to our assistance and support have usually continued their gifts, and in all cases with apparent appreciation of our work, which has been most gratifying.

Most hospitals start with little or no endowment. Indeed, they are fortunate if they do not begin with a debt on the buildings. Then follow years of hard work, anxiety and difficulty of every description.

This hospital was no exception to the general rule. But as friends were drawn to us and bequests made, all such amounts were strictly saved and added to the Endowment Fund. The cost of real estate and buildings, over $1,660,000.00, replacement cost of which at to-day's figures would be at least $3,000,000.00, was obtained by special gifts for that purpose, with the exception of the Jane Murdoch Building, erected from the bequest of her brother. And funds were not taken from bequests. This policy is showing its beneficial effect.

We are now in more of an assured position. By this is meant that we have arrived at a stronger financial condition, which insures our ability to take the best care of our patients and keep abreast of the developments in the progress of medical advancement. The income from the Harris bequest will contribute to our fixed charges, and will materially assist us in the care of our sick.

No hospital management that is compelled by its financial necessities to spend a large part of its time in simply endeavoring to make both ends meet, is able to give proper consideration to the highest interests of medical care and instruction. And, of course, such hospital does not have the funds with which to do it.

It must be remembered that the welfare of patients, and the proper care of the sick, can best be secured by the hospital that is doing a teaching work. The effect of this on the staff, on the internes and nurses is most marked and reflects on the patients, to the great advantage of the latter.

Therefore, if anyone has an idea that because this hospital has advanced to a stronger position financially, it is on that account past the need of assistance and support of its friends, it is an error.

There will be need of improved facilities and equipment to perform advanced work, all of which adds to obtaining accurate diagnosis; other equipment to secure the best treatment of our sick; and a certain liberality of expenditure in investigation and research. All these operate together for the good of our patients. Heretofore it has been difficult for us to properly care for these important needs. With the assistance of our friends in the future, as in the past, we hope to make decided improvements in all these ways in coming years.

We look forward to the new year with renewed hope for increased opportunities for service.

ALBERT M. DAY, President.

THE SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SCHOOL FOR NURSES

Mr. President and Members of the Board of Managers:

This seventeenth year of the School has been one of readjustment from war conditions, with a gradual return to normal, until at the close of the year no evidences remain of an incomplete graduate nurse staff or of other forms of disorganization.

The general policy of the School in its methods of nursing the patients of the Hospital and of providing nurse education for its students has remained unchanged.

Two important affiliations by which students may select training in the care of those mentally and nervously ill at the Chicago State Hospital, and in Public Health Nursing at the School of Civics and Philanthropy, have been consummated and it is hoped that before long there may be brought about a university affiliation which will allow selected students to secure, within a five years' period, both the nurses' diploma and the degree of Bachelor of Science.

The social life of the student has been broadened during the year by the formation of the Florence Nightingale Choral Club. This started at the suggestion and through the effort of Mrs. Graham, supported jointly by the Board of Directors and the Woman's Auxiliary Board, holds weekly meetings, to which are invited nurses from the neighboring hospitals. It has been a source of pleasure and profit to many of our students.

The purchase of a moving picture machine for the School has also added interest to the life in the Home, as well as proving helpful in class instruction.

The average enrollment of the School for the year has been:

22 Graduate Nurses.

2 Dietetians.

24 Total Graduate Staff.

190 Matriculated Student Nurses.

40 Members of the Preliminary Class.

230 Total Student Body,

making a grand total of 254. Of this number 9 graduates and 5 student nurses have lived outside of the Sprague Home.

An average of:

14 Graduate Nurses

2 Dietetians

141 Student Nurses have been on duty in the hospital.

Student Nurses have accomplished:

1483 days nursing in the Central Free Dispensary

361 days nursing in the Social Service Department

2029 days nursing in the Durand Contagious Hospital

310 days special duty nursing

363 days in the Occupational Department

1130 days at the Chicago State Hospital

1299 days at the School of Civics and Philanthropy

966 days in the District Obstetrical Department making 4,111 calls in the homes of the poor.

The "North Nurse" has cared for 47 patients, giving 56 days' time.

An average of 52 graduate nurses have been employed by private patients in the hospital, accomplishing 19,147 days of special duty nursing.

There have been granted 53 diplomas during the year, bringing the number of graduates of the school to 397.

During the fall the student dietitian course, which has been carried to a limited degree for some years, was extended and under the direction of the Senior Dietitian of the Hospital, graduates of Domestic Science have taken the post-graduate course, accomplishing 263 days study and work in the general and special diet kitchens of the hospital, benefiting alike the institution and themselves.

Again there is presented the three important needs of the School: a fund to purchase text books, laboratory and class room equipment: scholarships for some of our students to do additional preparatory work for responsible positions: an endowment fund sufficient in amount to carry the educational expenses of the School.

It is our privilege once again to extend most sincere thanks to all those who have in any way assisted in bringing the year 1919 to a successful close: to the graduate staff of the School for loyal co-operation in all that effects the welfare of the School; to the Superintendent of the Hospital and his staff for generous support; to the Medical Staff, Visiting and Resident, for ever ready advice in time of illness, as well as for assistance in class room work; to the retiring President of the Woman's Board, Mrs. Graham, for her personal interest; to Miss Drake and her committee for generous and continued thoughtfulness; to the President of the Institution and the Board of Directors without whose understanding success would be impossible.

Respectfully submitted,

M. H. McMILLAN, Superintendent of Nurses, and Principal of the School.

REPORT OF RECORDING SECRETARY

Monthly meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary Board and of the Executive Committee have been held regularly during the year 1919, with the customary omissions of July, August and September. The average attendance at the general meetings has been 74. The maximum attendance was 100 in February and the minimum was 60 in April; the total enrollment being 227, including 13 honorary members. The Ninth Church continues to hold first place in percentage of attendance, the never-failing presence of its one member making it 100 per cent perfect. Normal Park and Wilmette Churches rank second and third respectively. Forty-five churches are represented on the Board consisting of one Union, one Congregational and forty-three Presbyterian representatives, besides which there is a general membership of nine members. Seventeen new names have been added to the honorary list. Seven resignations have been accepted and the Board has lost by death one member, Mrs. Frank Childs of the Austin Church.

EDITH NEWELL CHILDS, Secretary.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

Letters received and letters written are the almost unvarying report of a Corresponding Secretary and this one is no exception to that rule, unless it be in the variety of letters, which sometimes require not a little mental activity to keep up with.

In the year just passed, meaning really only nine months, forty-four letters have been received and forty-three letters written. The welcomes to new members and regrets to those resigning are supposedly the routine work, but the miscellaneous ones are those that keep the work from becoming monotonous, when they jump from letters to those in sorrow, to the taxicab man so good to our patients, again to those celebrating golden weddings and then to our good friend the soap-wrapper man at Kirk's premium store.

Our Bulletin continues to grow in popularity, being now mailed to fifteen states outside of Illinois. Two letters enclosing subscriptions have recently come from different cities in Colorado, one being from St. Luke's Hospital in Denver.

We have had 214 names on the mailing list for 1919. Your subscriptions for 1920 are now due and can be paid to Miss Reed, the Treasurer, or to the Corresponding Secretary.

JESSIE A. PENFIELD.

ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE

The Entertainment Committee has provided alternate Saturday afternoon programs in the chapel during the year, except when the Hospital was quarantined. Friends prominent in music circles have responded heartily when asked to furnish music; fancy dancing and reading have entertained at other times. An announcement of program for the day is sent around to patients and the size of the audience proves that the effort to bring in outside cheeriness has been fully repaid by the appreciation expressed.

The Chapel music has continued to be a feature of the Sunday morning service and we are indebted to friends of the Hospital who have helped in this department of our work, which has supplemented the message of cheer and comfort which Mr. Curtis, the Hospital Chaplain, brings to those who are able to get to the Chapel in their wheel chairs on Sunday morning.

Miss Drake's beautiful flowers are distributed after the service to the patients present, and though a flower seems a small thing it carries the message of someone's personal interest, that is a welcome and a godspeed to one who feels alone and needs a cheery word while in the hospital.

MRS. CLEMENT J. WALL, Chairman.

FINANCE COMMITTEE

HOSPITAL BULLETIN

The Hospital Bulletin has been published and distributed quarterly at a cost to the Woman's Board of $320.00. This expense has been offset by paid subscriptions of $142.75, leaving a net expense of $177.25.

In addition to the regular committee reports and Nurses' Alumnæ Notes there have been the following articles of hospital interest: "The Heart of the Hospital," by Asa S. Bacon; "The Efficient Hospital," by Asa S. Bacon; "The New Illinois Nursing Act," by M. Helene McMillan; "A New Library Service," by Mrs. B. M. Linnell and Carl B. Roden; "The Blessings of Occupation," by M. D. A. Stern; "The Value of Training in the Nursing Profession," by Edna L. Foley; "Endowment Fund for Special Nurses to Care for Critically Sick Ward Patients," by Asa S. Bacon; "The Chapel Service," by Edward Harvey Curtis; "Training for Hospital Social Service," by John E. Ransom; "The Motion Picture in Advertising Hospitals and in Health Propaganda," by H. J. Moss; "Report of the Annual Meeting of the American Hospital Association," "Report of the Annual Meeting of the National Society for the Promotion of Occupational Therapy," by Winifred T. Brainerd; and letters from Colonel Dean Lewis, Miss Marion Cromie and Mlle. Jeanne DuPuis, of the Memorial League of Cosne, France.

Respectfully submitted,

ZELLA D. HERRICK, Chairman.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE

The affiliation with the Chicago Public Library has made a great increase in the service the Library Committee has been able to render the patients. Since February 27, 1919, the report from the Public Library states "the average circulation has been 700 volumes per month" and adds the hope that the "patients are appreciating what the Committee is doing for them."

There is much to be done to keep a better account of the books loaned to patients and a reasonable appeal is made to patients, nurses and hospital employees to co-operate for the prompt and safe return of all books to the Committee.

Chairmen of eight monthly Library Committees:

Monday—Mrs. Carey Culbertson of Third Church, 3547 West Adams Stret, Telephone Garfield 4924. Mrs. J. M. Watkins, 529 Stratford Place, Telephone Lake View 3597.

Thursday—Mrs. Ira Fessler, 538 South Highland Avenue, Oak Park, Ill. Miss Mary Reed, 4941 Kimbark Avenue, Telephone Drexel 149.

MRS. B. M. LINNELL, Chairman.

VISITING

The Visiting and Devotional Committee carries on a quiet work wherever opportunity offers. Miss Breeze directs certain visits, where they are much needed, and all visiting is done under the supervision of the Superintendent. The initial visit is the only step necessary to be arranged, as the patients themselves ask the visitors how soon they will come again. A merging of the Library and Visiting Committees was contemplated, but in order to get the books to the patients, the length of the visit would necessarily be curtailed, much to the disappointment of the patient. The frequent visits by the same persons naturally come to be looked for with eagerness, and the friendly interest grows into a much desired factor in making a satisfactory recovery. The Visiting Committee is convinced that loneliness, which is never a desirable condition, can be more depressing in a hospital than anywhere else. This committee is striving not only to be the good Samaritan in certain cases, but is trying to bring outside interest into the daily routine of convalescence.

WILOMENE WHITE, Chairman.
